Shadow Finance

Many organisations will now be having to estimate the impact of unpredictable market changes and worldwide events. For most, this is a long process putting strain on finance and IT resources, or relying on rushed broad-brush excel models.

With IBM Planning Analytics and Logicalis UK's project methodology, you can manage your planning needs in a scalable, driver-based model, allowing you real-time scenario modelling through a browser-based interface and in-built visualisations.

In times of resource uncertainty and sickness, Logicalis UK can offer you financial model build and run expertise on a flexible basis, to help with business continuity.

Keep your finance operations running and arrange a call with our planning team today to understand the requirement and timing.
