

SD-WAN as a Service Overlay

Unlike all other solutions, SD-WAN-as-a-Service provides you with all the components needed to run your global (or domestic) network. With options to provide both overlay and underlay services, Logicalis UK can run this on a global scale, with high-quality local customer care.

Built using the latest Cisco Viptela technology, and an end-to-end automated service orchestration, customers are able to leverage and onboard services in a scalable and simplified delivery model. We can overlay the service onto your existing network (as compatible) and immediately improve your network and operational continuity.

SD-WAN-as-a-Service enables businesses to deliver enhanced connectivity quicker, with simplified design models, built on tested and proved Cisco technologies, without the need to design a managed "build your own" network - reducing cost, complexity and risk.

Logicalis UK can provide the design and pre-sales services, with support from ngena - who are offering 50% reduction in overlay charges for deals booked in the next 6 weeks.
